Kuala Lumpur mayor Datuk Seri Ahmad Talib said he would propose that the plan Tuesday, 29 April 2014 requirement include this requirement the next One-Stop Centre meeting.

“There are about 300 hotspots for illegal dumping in Kuala Lumpur and it will only get worse if we do not do something about it.”

“The construction of the MRT, demolition of Pekeliling Flats and redevelopment of buildings, among others, will see an exponential increase in construction waste,” he said at the launch of the Sungai Kertas inert waste recovery facility in Gombak, Selangor.

The landfill is a project under EPP-9 Gombak in Kuala Lumpur/Klang Valley and the first construction and demolition waste material recovery facility plant in Malaysia. The plant is able to process 300 tonnes of waste in a day.

Kuala Lumpur Mayor Datuk Ahmad Phasal said he visited Danau Kota and Sungai Kertas sites to look at the first construction and demolition waste material recovery plant in Sungai Kertas. Looking on is N

Ahmad Phasal said Worldwide Holdings, which was managing the landfill, had invested heavily into the plant. It would recycle tyres, sand and other dry-leachable wastes into aggregates and other building materials.

“The plant is expected to process 10,800 tonnes of waste by the end of this year.
